Travel changes happen all the time, and many passengers wonder whether they can simply give their United Airlines ticket to someone else. Although United offers flexible date changes, route modifications, and name corrections, it does not allow full ticket transfers to a different person. The name on the reservation must always match the traveler's government-issued ID.

That said, United does permit several types of name updates for the same traveler, including fixing spelling mistakes and adjusting your legal name. If you need help understanding which changes you qualify for, you can contact customer service at +1-877-908-6960 for guidance.
